DAY 2: Killington, VT

After an included breakfast this morning we depart for the Lake Champlain ferry that will bring us to Grand Isle, Vermont. Your local guide will warmly greet you upon your arrival here. Burlington is just 45 minutes away, and your first stop is at ECHO, Vermont's lake aquarium and science center. Discover the ecology, culture, history, and opportunities for stewardship that the Lake Champlain Basin offers. Free time for lunch and shopping has been included at the Church Street marketplace. This historic pedestrian street has over 160 fashionable boutiques, restaurants, as well as street performers and local vendors. In the afternoon, tea is being served at the Brandon Inn. We will check-in at the Inn of the Six Mountains, late afternoon, with time allotted to freshen up before we depart for Dinner. (B,D)

DAY 3: Killington, VT

This morning we introduce you to "New England Cooks", a captivating new Cable TV concept that will have your taste buds clamoring for just a morsel of a taste. Then we stop at the Morse Farm. This attraction deals specifically with the production of Maple Syrup and other Maple products. Enjoy the Vermont tradition of "Sugar On Snow". Their gift shop is extensive with many wonderful Vermont made products and crafts. After a lunch break you may wish to save room for dessert until we arrive at Ben and Jerry's ice cream factory and learn how 2 friends from high school became entrepreneurs in the ice cream industry. From here we head to the Rock of Ages. This 600 foot deep, 50 acre quarry is simply a spectacular site. You will drive right up to the quarry and learn all about its existence and the job security of its workers due to its size and scope. Dinner at a very special hidden secret where the view almost outdoes the food, will bring our day to an end. (B,D)

DAY 4: Auburn, NY

Following breakfast this morning, depart with our local guide for the Adams Farm. The Adams farm offers the ultimate agricultural experience! Enjoy the views on a narrated hayride through the maple grove to a log cabin at the edge of the forest. Learn to view Vermont in a whole new perspective "through the eyes of a farmer". Delight in this humorous presentation on the workings; past, present and future of this 5th generation family farm. Adams Farm features a store with farm produce and Vermont products.
